NOTE: Spouses coming to the U.S. on F-2 visas are not permitted to work or to enroll in degree programs at the university by U.S. Federal law. Spouses coming to the U.S. on J-2 visas are permitted to work, however, they must first apply through the Office of International Students and Scholars (ISS) for work authorization and the employment cannot be used to support the J-1 spouse. In addition, the J-1/J-2 nonimmigrant visa category may require you to return to your home country for a two-year period before being eligible to change to the work visa categories of H or L, or to adjust to permanent resident status. Finally, a DS-2019 may not be issued to anyone whose educational expenses will be primarily funded through personal or family sources. If you plan to have your spouse join you in the U.S., and considering the above information, would you prefer to be issued an (check one) I-20 (F-1) or DS-2019 (J-1)? You may state your preference; however, ISS retains the right to make the final decision in regard to which form will be issued.

Section B: Financial Certification:

Purdue University requires confirmation of financial resources for each nonimmigrant student. Coverage for the estimated amount of $37,350.00 for the 2009-2010 academic year must be demonstrated. This information is required before the immigration document you will use to apply for a student visa to enter the U.S. will be mailed to you. In addition, if you are privately sponsored, you will be required to pay a fee deposit (please refer to your letter of admission).

If attending summer session, add approximately $7,500.00. Fees for other programs may also see increased rates. An additional $4,600 for a spouse and $2,850 for each child is also required. These amounts are expected to increase in future years.

The required fee deposit amount is $200.00 and will be credited toward your account at Purdue.
